

pleaded, tendered or given in evidence or raised by way of estoppel by the wife in any legal proceedings between the parties.

12) POST-SECONDARY EDUCATION

- a) The parties agree that upon the children being accepted for a course of post-secondary school education, the amount of the monthly child support to be paid for the benefit of that child shall be renegotiated.
- b) The parties acknowledge that they both have an obligation to contribute to the cost, if any, to any post-secondary educational expenses of the children in proportion to their gross annual income in accordance with the Child Support Guidelines. In determining the proportion, if any, that each shall contribute, the parties will consider, amongst other considerations:
  - i) Whether the husband is still obligated to contribute child support (for the child attending a post-secondary education facility) pursuant to this Agreement and, if so, how much;
  - ii) The availability of financial aid, grants, loans and scholarships;
  - iii) The child's obligation and ability to contribute; and
  - iv) The relative gross income of the parties.
- c) The respective contribution of the parents will be determined by a realistic budget plan prepared by the child accurately setting out all of the various component expenses offset by the realistic assessment of the contribution that can be anticipated from the child and other sources towards educational expenses.

13) EXTRA-ORDINARY EXPENSES

- a) The parties agree to share any major or extraordinary expenses relating to the children in proportion to their respective line 150 incomes for the preceding year in which such expenses are incurred, provided that both parties are aware of any such expense prior to any expenditure being made.
- b) The parties shall have regard to the nature of the expense itself, their respective financial
